

Love, Mom

If you come home
And my brains are splattered
All over the walls

You can tell them
That someone must have broken
Their fucking glasses.